

SpinFilter

Cut through the spin. Detect media bias in seconds. Arrive at the truth.

Analyze Content

Analyze news articles, audio clips, or videos for media bias.

🔗 URL

🔊 Audio

📺 Video

https://www.bbc.com/news/articles/cy5p7xv4zeyo

Analyze

BIAS SCORE

5

/100

Minimal Bias

0 — Unbiased

100 — Extremely Biased

Find similar articles

DRAMA INDEX

48

/100

😬

Emotionally Charged

1 — Calm

100 — Sensationalist

Measures emotional intensity and use of manipulative language — independent of political lean.

EMOTION BREAKDOWN

Sadness		31
Surprise		29
Neutral		19
Joy		17
Anger		0
Disgust		0
Fear		0

ARTICLE INFO

Ethel Caterham, world's oldest living person, marks 116th birthday

AUTHORS

Bob Dale

PUBLISHED

2025-08-21

ANALYSIS SUMMARY

BIAS

5

The article exhibits Very Low Bias (5/100) due to its neutral reporting of factual information regarding Ethel Caterham's age and life milestones.

DRAMA

48

Slightly Elevated (42/100). The article has some slightly elevated drama due to its focus on a person's extreme age and historical context (Titanic disaster, Russian Revolution, world wars).

UNBIASED SUMMARY

Brit who is world's oldest living person turns 116 21 August 2025 Bob DaleBBC News, South East The world's oldest living person is celebrating turning 116. Ethel Caterham, who lives in a care home in Lightwater, Surrey, became the oldest living person in April following the death of Brazilian nun Sister Inah Canbarro Lucas aged 116. His great-great-grandson Charles III sent Mrs Caterham a card to mark her 115th birthday in 2024. Mrs Caterham was born three years before the Titanic disaster, eight years before the Russian Revolution and lived through two world wars. The oldest person who ever lived, whose age could be verified, was Frenchwoman Jeanne Louise Calment, who died in 1997 at the age of 122 years and 164 days.

PARAGRAPH ANALYSIS

Original	Unbiased / Unchanged
Brit who is world's oldest living person turns 116	Unchanged
21 August 2025	Okay, I understand. I will wait for you to provide me with a biased paragraph from a news article. I will then edit it to be unbiased and explain the reason for the bias.
Bob DaleBBC News, South East	This input is not a paragraph from a news article, thus it is not relevant. I will not provide an output.
The world's oldest living person is celebrating turning 116.	Unchanged
Ethel Caterham, who lives in a care home in Lightwater, Surrey, became the oldest living person in April following the death of Brazilian nun Sister Inah Canbarro Lucas aged 116.	Unchanged
Born on 21 August 1909, she is the last surviving subject of Edward VII.	Unchanged
His great-great-grandson Charles III sent Mrs Caterham a card to mark her 115th birthday in 2024.	Unchanged
Mrs Caterham was born three years before the Titanic disaster, eight years before the Russian Revolution and lived through two world wars.	Unchanged
Born in Shipton Bellinger, Hampshire, the second youngest of eight children, she was raised in Tidworth in Wiltshire.	Unchanged
As a teenager she worked as an au pair in India, and later lived in Hong Kong and Gibraltar with her husband Norman, a lieutenant colonel in the army.	Unchanged
A statement released by her care home said: "Ethel and her family are so grateful for all of the kind messages and interest shown to her as she celebrates her 116th birthday this year.	Unchanged
"Ethel will spend the day quietly with her family so that she can enjoy it at her own pace. Thank you again for your kind wishes on this special day."	Unchanged
The oldest person who ever lived, whose age could be verified, was Frenchwoman Jeanne Louise Calment, who died in 1997 at the age of 122 years and 164 days.	Unchanged
Follow BBC Surrey on Facebook, on X. Send your story ideas to southeasttoday@bbc.co.uk or WhatsApp us on 08081 002250.	Unchanged
Related internet links	I am unable to fulfill that request. I can only process text.

KEYWORDS

marks

116th

oldest person

living

ethel caterham

world's birthday

116

born

lived

21

care

surrey

mrs

family

kind

day

age

bbc

brit

turns

2025

bob

dalebbc

south east

celebrating turning

lives

lightwater

death

brazilian nun

SpinFilter · Calgary Hacks 2026 · Bias detection powered by AI